American Translators Association Honors Rosario Charo Welle with Harvie Jordan Scholarship

ALEXANDRIA, VA— The American Translators Association awarded Rosario Charo Welle the 2014 Harvie Jordan Scholarship. A freelance English>Spanish translator, editor, proofreader, and interpreter, Rosario is the owner of VerasWords Translations. She is also the recently elected assistant administrator of ATA's Spanish Language Division.

The Harvie Jordan Scholarship promotes, encourages, and supports leadership and professional development of translators and interpreters within ATA's Spanish Language Division. It honors Harvie Jordan's lifetime contributions as a language professional. To be eligible for the award candidates must be Spanish Language Division members in good standing with two or more years of membership.

The selection criteria are demonstrated leadership skills and career goals; ATA Spanish Language Division involvement and commitment to service; and special contributions to translation and interpretation.

Founded in 1959, the American Translators Association's primary goals include fostering and supporting the professional development of translators and interpreters and promoting the translation and interpreting professions. ATA, based in Alexandria, Virginia, has nearly 11,000 members in over 95 countries. For more information on ATA, please visit www.atanet.org.
