Il pleut des mots
Ca s’est passé un dimanche.
Depuis midi, de gros nuages noirs comme de l’encre s’étaient arrêtés au-dessus de notre village. L’orage menaçait. On était tous un petit peu inquiets.
Puis, il y a eu un éclair terrible et des plic et des ploc sur le toit des maisons. On n’a pas réalisé tout de suite ce qui se passait. C’est un enfant qui le premier a crié :
- C’est pas de l’eau ! C’est pas de l’eau ! C’est des mots !
On a tous collé le nez à la fenêtre et on a vu que c’était vrai.
Il pleuvait des mots.

It's Raining Words
It happened one Sunday.
There were inky black clouds in the sky above our town that afternoon.
A thunderstorm was coming.
We could feel it.
Then lightning struck and the rain started to fall, pitter patter, onto the tops of houses.
It took us a moment to realize what was happening.
One of the children shouted,
"It's not water—it's words!" We all pressed our faces up against the window and saw that it was true.
It was raining words!

Translation

- Translate alone or with a partner.
- Look up words as needed with your devices.
- Pick a book to translate.
- Don’t forget to write the name of the book and your name on your paper.
- If you have a device, take a picture of the pages you are translating, to refer to later.
